

Ana Maria Rodriguez - Senior Advisor to the President, Inter-American Development Bank (IDB)

Ana María Rodríguez graduated from the CDE in 1987. Before joining the Inter-American Development Bank in 1991, she worked in Colombia on issues of monetary economics for the Banco de la República (the central bank of Colombia) and at the Banking Association. In her twenty-year career with the Inter-American Development Bank (the largest source of development financing for Latin America and the Caribbean), she has occupied technical, managerial and advisory positions. She recently returned from Peru where she was the IDB's Resident Representative in Lima. In Peru, she led groups of professionals working on a range of development projects in the following areas: infrastructure; social welfare; regional integration; productivity promotion; protection of the environment; response to climate change; and promotion of renewable energy. Ms. Rodríguez is currently Senior Advisor to the President of the Inter-American Development Bank.
