

Rafkat Hasanov is a graduate of Williams College (2002), where he majored in Development Economics. He also graduated from Novosibirsk State University (1985), where he majored in Economic Cybernetics. In Soviet times, R. Hasanov worked at the Institute of Economics of the State Planning Committee of the Kyrgyz Soviet Socialist Republic. After Kyrgyzstan was proclaimed independent, he worked in the republic's government bodies for nine years, serving as a Deputy Minister of Finance and the Head of the Economic Policy Department at the Office of the President of Kyrgyzstan (the latter is equivalent to the position of the Advisor to the President), and later returning to applied economic research. He worked from 1999 to 2001 as a senior consultant in the Fiscal Reform Project, Barents Group. Since 2003 he works as Executive Administrator of Public Association "Investment Round Table", of NGO which is known for its contribution to the economic reform progress in the Kyrgyz Republic. From 1 April 2006 according to the decision of the Board of PA "Investment Round Table" Rafkat Hasanov is appointed as Executive Director of the association. From April 2007 Rafkat Hasanov is also an Economic and Financial Expert of the Investment Council under the President of the Kyrgyz Republic. His scholarly interests include fiscal sector reform, tax legislation, public finance (including gender budgeting), macroeconomic modeling and revenue forecasting, investment promotion and deregulation policies.